

BERT OLIVA

LEADERSHIP & HUMAN BEHAVIOR

Bert Oliva is a world renowned international speaker, author, and corporate trainer on Leadership and Human Behavior. Bert has received global recognition for delivering "how to" techniques with a high-energy message; showing people how to communicate more positively and powerfully. Bert conducts team-building, empowerment, and management communication seminars for companies and organizations interested in better employee relations, sales, morale, and productivity.

His business programs help many multi-national companies around the world establish a clear vision, organizational culture, and a climate that enables success into daily routines. Bert specializes in bringing real solutions to the communication challenges that cost businesses and employees time and money every day. His exceptional gifts as a strategist allow him to connect life lessons to business insights in presentations that are unforgettable and delightful. He entices audiences to open their minds and grasp practical techniques they can use immediately through entertaining examples and hands-on exercises.

Bert has an exceptional support staff, some of which have been working with him for over two decades. His team understands his methods for teaching and focuses on support for all participants in his events.

He teaches roadmaps to help leaders command with greater awareness, more determined purpose, and focused engagement in order to achieve inspired results through dealing with emotions, thoughts, and subconscious belief systems.

Bert has a knack for making the seemingly complex easy to understand. His programs are dynamic and compelling to help both motivate and produce more in people's lives at work, home, and the world of social media.
