

NICOLE DIAS
VIRTUAL COOKING CHEF

Nicole Dias has been in business since 1996 and has served thousands of people including the Head of State. Over the past several years she has done everything from being a personal chef to serving the Microsoft Corporation.

Chef Nicole cooks with intention, energy, and love, venerating the rituals of mealtime as well-orchestrated affairs. She is honored that you have invited her to cook for you and believes it is our responsibility to honor you and your guests by making delicious food and serving it impeccably.

Her goal is to combine creativity, passion, and professionalism in everything she does. She specializes in making your vision a reality. She concentrates on serving her customers' needs, whatever they may be. The extent of the products and services that she can provide is limited only to your imagination.
